Declaration to hold the exhibitions

9th International Jewellery Tokyo [AUTUMN] will be held from 10. 27th - 29th as scheduled

Thank you for your continuous support for the exhibitions.

On August 17th, the Japanese Government announced that the extension of its state of emergency in Tokyo and other regions to September 12th. The exhibitions will be held as scheduled while following the guidelines for Covid-19 control measures of the government, municipalities, and the exhibition industry to ensure the exhibitors' and visitors' safety.

For more information on the control measures, please refer to the official website of the exhibition.

As a fair organiser, RX Japan (formerly Reed Exhibitions Japan) has been hosting exhibitions over 34 years based on the belief that "Exhibitions, in principle, should be held as scheduled under any circumstances." It is because exhibitions have the following features.

- Exhibitions, in principle, should be held regularly at the same time and place each year.
- Since exhibitions are a "business place" where business discussions worth billions upon billions of yen are held, they are indispensable for exhibitors and visitors alike.
- Exhibitors start preparing some six months before the exhibition, whilst visitors also begin making appointments with exhibitors and seminar applications.
- Exhibitions bring huge economic benefits to the host cities every year in terms of accommodation, transportation, food and beverage, and therefore have the nature of public infrastructure

We will continue to follow this principle and hold all exhibitions as scheduled.

Should the government ask for the cancellation of exhibitions in future, the organiser shall decide whether to postpone or cancel the exhibitions.

Economic activities have been stagnant due to Covid-19. We are determined to contribute to accelerating and developing the industry through these exhibitions and sincerely appreciate your continued support and cooperation.
